

Molecular Imaging and Radiopharmaceutical Services

As Europe's leading independent provider of imaging services, Alliance Medical is at the forefront of molecular imaging technology.

We deliver high-quality PET-CT scanning services to both public and private sector healthcare providers, and in partnership with the NHS, carry out the highest number of PET-CT scans in the UK.

Via our network of five radiopharmaceutical production units, we also manufacture and distribute PET radiopharmaceuticals, giving Alliance Medical a fully integrated supply chain for molecular imaging services.
